Session Status

The 2024 short session of the Indiana General Assembly is on track to adjourn sine die today, six days earlier than the statutory deadline. Of the 32 bills that ISBA has been tracking in the final week of the session, 14 of these bills have been in conference committee where four (4) members of the House and Senate (one member from each caucus) negotiate to resolve differences on the versions of a bill passed by each chamber. There are seven bills that we are still awaiting final conference committee reports on today, including: House Bills 1001, 1002, 1120, 1243, 1304, 1380 and Senate Bill 211. The ISBA Bill Tracking List is automated to update in real time any action on these bills throughout the day, so don't hesitate to download the list and then refresh your browser to monitor the outcome of these bills.

ISBA will be issuing a 2024 Digest of New Laws in the next few weeks that will include the final list of bill enactments, their corresponding public law numbers, effective dates, and commentary about the bills to help you with interpretation and implementation. In the meantime, check out the final “Top 3 Things to Know” video update for this week and reach out to us if you have any questions about the outcomes of the session.

Thank you for your participation in the ISBA Legislative Action Network this session. You are to be commended for standing united in support of sound K-12 education policy in Indiana! We have had a very successful session in achieving favorable outcomes for public education.

Sincerely,
